Description

About ICT Hub ICT Hub is Serbian-based, privately owned center for technology entrepreneurship and innovation. Established in 2014, it delivers the value to Serbian tech community and corporate partners through three key areas of work:

a) Start-up community building - ICT Hub actively participates in building the local technology entrepreneurship ecosystem by providing the education of technology start-ups and provision of mentoring and networking support for them, as well as outreach, policymaking and advocacy efforts directed to strengthening the overall start-up ecosystem in Serbia. In three years of its operations, ICT hub has established working relationship with more than 300 technology startups in Serbian and the region.

b) Corporate innovation - ICT Hub has developed a variety of programs to help corporations' better leverage the tech startup ecosystem in every stage of their innovation journey, ranging from specific business needs to wider industry initiatives. Key values ICT Hub is bringing to corporations as an "innovation partner" is helping corporations identify new technologies and business models, accelerate their projects, and bridge the gap between corporate and startup culture.

c) Investment fund - In January 2017, ICT Hub has launched the first Serbian private investment fund (ICT Hub Venture), dedicated in investing in technology startups in the earliest stage of development (pre-seed and seed). The plan is to invest 1.000.000€ in between 20 and 30 startups in the next two years.
